EMPLOYER-READY OUTPLACEMENT OVERVIEW

Often shared by individuals when discussing outplacement support with their employer

Who this Support is Designed for:

This overview is for individuals who have been made redundant or are in consultation and are exploring outplacement support options. Some employers offer outplacement automatically.

Others provide a budget when requested, or allow individuals to choose their preferred provider.

In some cases, outplacement support is not discussed initially, and individuals seek guidance independently to understand what support may be available.

London Outplacement regularly supports individuals across all of these situations - whether employer-funded, self-funded, or a combination of both.
